

San Diego Trip Itinerary

Event: Vic & Jon's Birthday Bash

Date: October 6th – October 9th

Greetings everyone! I have compiled a tentative itinerary for our upcoming trip to San Diego. I have provided ideas & activities below, but if you are interested in doing something I did not cover feel free to refer to the following website:

<http://www.101things.com/sandiego/101-things-to-do-in-s>

I will have a master copy of the trip itinerary with me printed out in a binder so everyone can reference it during the trip. It is also a good reference for addresses so keep that in mind. To help you better prepare for the trip, I have answered some commonly asked questions below. Please send me an e-mail at jaclynhankins@gmail.com if you have any other questions/concerns and I will be happy to address them.

Q: What to pack for the trip?

A: Bathing suit (for the hot tub), jacket/coat, one pair of dress clothes, casual clothes, pj's and be sure to include some warm clothes (58 - 73 degree weather). Ladies- Be sure to bring a pair of close-toed shoes if you are interested in horse riding on the beach (reference below for more details).

Q: When will we go grocery shopping?

A: If you have signed up to cook a meal, we will go grocery shopping Thursday when we get to town and if need be - Friday morning after breakfast.

Q: What does the house have?

A: The house has dishes, cook wear (pots, pans, etc), bath towels, laundry detergent, etc.

Q: The house only sleeps 13 people, how will others be accommodated?

A: I have (2) queen size blow-up mattresses that I will be bringing. I will also bring extra bedding (if needed).

Q: How will we determine who sleeps where once we arrive at the house?

A: To be fair- I thought we could put names in a hat and draw for rooms. If need be we can do it again on Friday if the house guests are interested to mix things up.

Q: If I drive can others pitch in for gas?

A: Absolutely! Thank you in advance for those who sign-up to drive!! For those of us riding as passengers, I encourage you all to help pitch in for gas. I would anticipate gas to cost (round-trip) approximately $150.00- so if you are riding in a vehicle, please bring $35.00 ea. for gas costs.

Note: As the date approaches, we will post vehicle sign-ups on the jonpeople.com website (reference the San Diego trip link).
